Amelia Tran Joins 2020 impart Fellowship

Amelia Tran, Associate Director of Paid Social at MediaCom US, joins the Advertising Club of NY's Women's Fellowship executive training program. The fellowship program is in its 5th year and has accepted five additional Fellows to this year's roster. Created in 2016, the AD Club Fellowship is a year-long executive and leadership training program designed specifically for mid-level rising female stars. The goal of the program is to provide more access, tools, & nurturing necessary for them to grow and thrive in all aspects of our industry.

As part of a group of 50 Fellows accepted into the imPART Women's Fellowship executive training program, fellows come from diverse, professional backgrounds with a range of work experience, including media agencies, advertising & marketing agencies, higher education programs, public relations firms and financial marketing companies. When asked what she is looking forward to most in the program, Amelia says

“An opportunity to connect with industry leaders, learn from conferences I normally may not have access to and have open conversations with my fellowship class to propel one another’s careers, support achievements, create a sisterhood.”

Congratulate Amelia and read about the fellowship here.
